Many Weather Records Set In September

September went into the local weather records today as a month of extreme and sudden changes in temperature—but the month's average mercury reading came within a fifth of a degree of normal.

There were 50-year heat records set and 30-year records for cold weather equalled in the 30-day period that opened in the midst of the longest and hottest heat wave in Gettysburg's history and closed with the mercury back in the 90's. In between, the temperature dropped to within four degrees of freezing and there was frost.

Tuesday with a high of 91 degrees became the first September 29th in Gettysburg weather history to see a 90-degree reading. If today's high reaches 90 another 50-year heat record will be set for this month.

Second Dry Month
What may have been of more importance to more people than the heat is the fact that September received only about two-thirds of its normal amount of rainfall and helped build up a two-month shortage of almost four inches of rain.

The first three days of the month had maximum readings of 100 degrees or above with the high being reached at 102 on September 2. The low was 36 degrees on September 24 when the first frost occurred. The average daily high reading was 79.4 degrees and the daily minimum 52.53 degrees, making the month's average 65.97 degrees. Normal for September here is 66.1 degrees.

Measurable amounts of rain fell on only six days and totaled 2.09 inches. Normal for the month is 3.52 inches leaving September 1.43 inches short.

40-Degree Shift
The rainfall accumulation for the first nine months of the year stands at 33.05 inches which is 2.9 inches above normal. The current drought has whittled the record spring excess of rain down to that figure up to October 1.

An extreme in temperature changes occurred here in the last 24 hours when the mercury dropped from Tuesday's high of 91 to a low this morning of 51. Temperature shifts of as much as 30 degrees in a day are unusual but a 40-degree change is very rare.

ANOTHER WINNER

Mrs. Kenneth W. Johns, 24 Carlisle St., was the winner today on the "You Win" jackpot program on WGET. Her prizes totaled $64.50 and included two certificates for motor oil, a cookware set and a $5 certificate for hosiery. The question asked the number of eggs produced in a day by a queen termite. The correct answer was 4,000.

PLANS MADE FOR WORKSHOP, TEA AND FALL TOUR

Plans for a leadership training workshop, a Christmas tea and a tour of county plants in November were outlined Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of 16 representatives from the extension economics clubs of the county held at the Adams Electric Cooperative Building, rear of N. Stratton St.

Miss Mary Jane Mickey, county home economics extension representative, was named to arrange for the leadership training workshop to be held November 11 and 12, on etching aluminum trays.

A committee comprising Mrs. Emory Gitt, Littlestown R. D.; Mrs. Merritt Rouizer, Guersney, and Mrs. Merle Rudisill, Gettysburg R. 1, was appointed to arrange for a tour of the county to be held in November. The group plans to visit a number of manufacturing plants as part of the program on how to judge better quality products to be held in connection with the club meetings during the winter months.

Christmas Tea Dec. 11
Mrs. Glenn Sterner, Gettysburg R. D.; Mrs. Walter Crouse, Littlestown R. D., and Mrs. Bruce Wetzel, Biglerville R. D., were named as a committee to arrange for a county-wide Christmas Tea to be held December 11 for all members of the extension home economics groups.

According to the plan made at Tuesday's session, there will be at least 14 extension home economics clubs starting in the county in November. The clubs already planned include Abbottstown, Alloway, Barlow, Cashtown, Conewago, Good Hope, Harrisburg Road, Hunt Avenue, Lincolnway East, Fairfield, Littlestown, Oak Grove, Frog Town, and Biglerville.

A number of other sections are also considering the establishment of home economics clubs for the winter months. It was reported, Communities planning such clubs are asked to contact Miss Mickey at her office in the Court House.

BRIDGE, CLOCK COMMISSIONERS' BUSINESS ITEMS

Lumber off a bridge and the restoration to service of the old town clock occupied the attention of the County Commissioners at their meeting this morning at the Court House.

The lumber that mysteriously disappeared from the Deardorff's Burnt Mill Bridge over Opposum Creek, near Stone Jug, has reappeared with as much mystery as it disappeared in the first place.

The commissioners learned that the approximately 300 board feet of lumber which was taken off the sides of the covered bridge several months ago is now stacked neatly under the structure.

Sheriff Got Busy
When the loss of the siding was discovered, the commissioners urged the persons responsible to return the wood and no questions would be asked. When the wood did not immediately reappear Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz was dispatched to the general area to make a quiet investigation. The investigation continued and the

FIRE COMPANIES REPORT ON AIR ON DRILL PLANS

Preliminary plans for activities in connection with the air raid drill next Tuesday evening were outlined by a number of county fire companies during the regular test of the county's Civil Defense-Firemen's radio network Tuesday night.

Bendersville and Aspers companies are planning a 1,500-foot relay from a farm pond as their test to determine what could be done if an actual disaster occurred during a real air raid test. The relay work will be carried out immediately after the all-clear signal is given in the air raid test.

McSherrystown, Iristown and Centennial are planning a joint "run" in a test for cooperation in event needed in an actual disaster.

All 36 Sets Heard
Other companies will report on their plans at the meeting of the Adams County Fire Chiefs to be held Thursday evening at Taneytown.

Tuesday night showed a marked improvement in reception of the mobile radio sets throughout the county, with all 36 heard plainly and distinctly at the central station here, and most fire companies throughout the county reporting hearing a larger number of the other companies.

The test also showed a greater ease in handling on the part of many radio operators throughout the county. A number who had appeared somewhat "stiff" in their use of the radio in the first two tests came in strong and clear and apparently had been able to make minor adjustments easily.

Part of Alert Next Week
After the main station station turned the air over to the companies for use in test calls throughout the county the "air" became a pandemonium when a half dozen "calls" came on the air at once. The firemen soon straightened out the difficulty and continued in operation for some time after the regular test was completed.

Next Tuesday evening's test will be conducted as part of the Civil Defense air raid alert.

Widow Of General Patton Is Thrown From Horse, Killed

HAMILTON, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Beatrice Ayer Patton, widow of Gen. George S. Patton, famed 3rd Army commander of World War II, was killed today when thrown from a saddle horse.

Rushed from the bridge path accident scene, she was pronounced dead upon arrival at Beverly Hospital.

Mrs. Patton's death was the third major tragedy in the family in recent years. Her husband was killed in a collision between his jeep and another vehicle while serving in Europe.

Their daughter, Beatrice, wife of Army officer John K. Waters, died about a year ago unexpectedly. Her mother at that time was at sea in the Patton yacht, "When and If," which had been so named by the general because he hoped "when and if he retired" to go on a world cruise.

Mrs. Patton, 67, was riding with 30 friends in a drag hunt sponsored by the exclusive Myopia Hunt Club.

MERCHANTS TO ASK $500 FOR HOLIDAY PLANS

Plans for a solicitation for the Christmas decorations in the center of the town were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Retail Merchants' Association at the Court House.

More than $500 will be needed to take care of the cost of placing the lights and other decorations. The amount includes the money needed for normal replacement, with Frank Hower, secretary, reporting that each year replacements are being made in some of the wiring to bring it all up to date. Some of the wiring is 20 years old.

Named by President Harold H. Reuning as a committee to arrange the Christmas decorations were John D. Lippy Jr., chairman; James Reaver and Edward Stine.

Discuss Folders

A lengthy discussion was held on the need for folders advertising Gettysburg, with the members of the Merchants' Association backing the Chamber of Commerce in its drive for the funds to purchase new folders to be sent out to travel agencies, etc., to stimulate the tourist business.

Charles Bender pointed out: "There is nothing that gives as good a return as the return we get on these folders. We spend about $1,800 every couple years, and the return is in the millions of dollars every year."

Murray Goldsborough, reporting on a survey of retail business in the community in relation to the population as compared to similar business elsewhere indicates that the tourist trade may bring up to $9,000,000 a year into the community.

Plan Donation Box

Bender pointed out: "It is unfortunate that the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants must go out and beg when funds are needed, but unfortunately our number of memberships does not bring in sufficient money to do the work that must be done for the community to stimulate business for all."

Bender also reported that there are still openings in the list of 30 Gettysburg area residents invited to visit Virginia as guests of the Virginia Travel Bureau October 12 through 16. Members of the Retail Merchants were invited to join the group. Those planning to take part in the tour must contact the local Chamber of Commerce office by Thursday.

LEGION POST LOSES LICENSE

County License Commissioner Gail L. Cutshall, Frederick, Tuesday suspended for ten days the club liquor license of the Francis K. Elder Post No. 121, American Legion in Emmitsburg.

Representatives of the post appeared before the liquor license commissioner and voluntarily surrendered the license. The suspension began as of that time and the post will not be permitted to dispense any alcoholic beverage until October 9.

The Legion post was convicted on September 11, in a hearing in the Circuit Court before Associate Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer of operating a gaming table and was fined $500.

In his order suspending the license, Commissioner Cutshall stated he "took cognizance of the fact the post was convicted of illegal operation of slot machines and cited officials of the post to appear at a hearing at 11 a.m. today."

No hearing was held since the license was voluntarily surrendered by Alton Y. Bennett, attorney for the post home. Similar action was taken by the commissioner in a case against a Frederick fraternal organization after it was convicted of a like offense.

The Elder post's license was a Class C on sale beer, wine and liquor club license.

Heard Every Series Broadcast

When he tuned his radio set to hear the first game of the 1953 World Series this afternoon, Edward Barbehenn, 78, of 218 N. Stratton St., continued his record of having heard every radio broadcast of a World Series baseball game.

An avid fan of the national pastime, Barbehenn, when queried by a reporter as to whom he was rooting for, said, "The Yankees, of course."

Barbehenn is well-known to local residents. Each year he supplies flowers free to children for decorating graves on Memorial Day as well as for other purposes. Several years ago he received an award on the "Good Neighbor" radio program conducted by the late Tom Brenne-man.

WILSON DOUBTS RUSSIANS WILL START WAR SOON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says he doubts the Russians will start a war right now, but at a news conference he steered cautiously away from any prediction of a big slash soon in military spending.

In a separate discussion, Val Peterson, civil defense administrator, said Russia "has enough atomic bombs to drop one or more on every major American city at the same time"—and that such an attack could cause up to 22 million casualties.

Wilson was bombarded at his conference yesterday with questions about Soviet ability to make hydrogen bombs in quantity and any related reshaping of U. S. fiscal and defense plans.

Opposes Big Slash
Wilson agreed with one newsman that any early reduction to 33 or 34 billions in defense spending, now running between 42 and 43 billion dollars a year, would involve cutting operating, combat forces.

He said he thought the budget of his department for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would probably be "something less than 43 billion dollars" and that newsmen were "getting hot" when they questioned him about a 40 billion figure.

Wilson listened with obvious concurrence when Asst. Secretary of the Air Force Roger Lewis, at the same conference, said the Air Force might be built up to 120 wings by July, instead of the 114 wings in 1955 first contemplated under the Eisenhower administration economy program.

The Air Force said Monday that about half a billion dollars of the money saved by earlier cutbacks was being channeled into increased production of advanced types of jet bomber and fighter planes.

Lewis emphasized that the Air Force still has its long range production plans geared to 143 wings, the announced goal of the Truman administration, and that other figures were only "interim" targets. Current strength is about 106 wings. A wing varies from 75 fighter planes to 30 big bombers.

Smith Arrested On Three New Charges

James Luther Smith, 31, formerly of Gettysburg R. D., onetime employee at the county home here, was arrested this morning by state police and Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz at his home in Reisterstown, Md., and was brought to the county prison to face a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a child and two morals charges, all involving a juvenile.

He is scheduled for a hearing later today before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehor on the charges.

Smith was placed on parole by the Adams County court October 20, 1952, after serving 11 months of an 11 to 23-month sentence for armed robbery of a Puerto Rican on W. High St. At the time he was placed on parole the court directed that if Smith again became subject to the law he would have to serve out the remainder of the sentence for the armed robbery, in addition to any other sentence imposed.

Refugees Seeking U. S. Foster Parents

A letter from a former Czechoslovakian political refugee emigrating to the United States in a few months and seeking sponsorship by people who would become "foster-parents" has been received by Burgess William G. Weaver.

The writer, Edward R. Schatz, 40, of Backnang, Germany (U. S. Zone), seeks the helping hand of folks who would be willing to adopt his family which includes a wife and two sons aged two and four years.

Both Schatz and his wife were born in Czechoslovakia. During World War II he was taken into the German Army and since has earned a livelihood for his family as a writer of science fiction and publications for mental training and discipline. He has had specialized training as an engineer. The parents of both were killed by Communists.

"Impy" Enters Race For New York Mayor

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri has entered the mayoral race again as an independent candidate.

He now is running for re-election Nov. 3 as the candidate of the Experience party, the same designation he used when he won as an independent in a special election three years ago.

Impellitteri claims the results of the Sept. 15 primary, in which he was beaten for the Democratic nomination almost 2-to-1 by Manhattan Borough President Robert F. Wagner Jr., did not accurately represent the wishes of the Democratic voters.

The mayor announced his decision to run late yesterday at a City Hall news conference and said he is the only "real Democrat" in the race. Impellitteri is a veteran Democratic office holder.

With Impellitteri's entry, there are four major candidates and a number of minor party candidates in the field.

WEST BERLINERS MOURN MAYOR'S SUDDEN DEATH

BERLIN (AP)—Doughty West Berlin pledged today to keep clenched the first of resistance to communism as a lasting monument to its dead lord mayor, Ernst Reuter. Men who often differed with the Socialist leader in his lifetime threw factionalism aside and vowed to carry on the battle of freedom and unity in his tradition. Reuter's sudden death last night spread momentary dismay, quickly followed by a swell of new determination and pride in Berlin's role in the cold war.

Blame Overwork

Christian Democrats who battled Reuter's Socialist policies declared in their party newspaper:

"Parting from Ernst Reuter, we emphasize our determination to continue fighting with all our strength for the great aim for which he sacrificed himself. The same day we achieve unity and freedom for Berlin and Germany, his name will be quoted as the man who helped us to reach this goal."

Germans of all walks were convinced Reuter's abrupt passing came from his zealous day-and-night work to preserve West Berlin's freedom and someday see his nation unified.

State Funeral Saturday

From the Brandenburg Gate to the White House, the Western world mourned the militantly anti-Communist mayor. President Eisenhower, whom he had visited in Washington last March, termed him "a born leader . . . a rare combination of talents, including courage, intelligence, energy and dedication to the cause of freedom."

The huge state funeral Saturday will be attended by West German President Theodor Heuss and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, along with top Allied officials.

A final, private ceremony will be held for the mayor's widow, Hanna, who was at his bedside when he died, his two sons and his daughter.

The 64-year-old Reuter became ill early yesterday and was ordered to bed, though his doctor did not consider his ailment serious. During the afternoon he took a turn for the worse and died at nightfall.

Solemn Close Of Forty Hours At Littlestown; Girl Scouts Arrange Camp Fire Meeting

St. Aloysius Catholic Church was filled to capacity for the solemn closing of the Forty Hours Devotion on Tuesday night, with extra chairs being placed to accommodate the worshippers. The Forty Hours Devotion commemorates the forty hours which Christ spent in the tomb following His death on the cross. The devotion began in Milan, Italy, in 1534 and was first introduced in the United States in the Diocese of Philadelphia in 1853.

The closing service included a procession, when the children of the school, with the girls in white dresses and with white veils on their heads, occupied the pews in the center aisle of the church. The children were led by John Rudisill as cross bearer and Joseph Rang and Ronald Oaster as acolytes. The Litany of the Sacred Heart of Jesus was said by priest and people led by the pastor, the Rev. Edward J. Shanahan; "Veni Creator" was sung by the senior choir; sermon by the Rev. Francis McNelis, vice president of Mt. St. Mary's College, who preached the series of sermons, on "The Will of God," Sunday night; "Eternity" on Monday night and on the text "My Delight Is To Be with the Children of Men," on the closing night.

St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, as the leader. The procession of the Blessed Sacrament followed, with the children and the clergy participating, and the children sang "Pange Lingua." NO CONTACT IS MADE IN KIDNAP CASE OF BOY, 6

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cold-blooded kidnapers, apparently adopting delaying tactics, today kept the fate of 6-year-old Bobby Greenleaf from his anguished parents.

The child, son of a millionaire automobile dealer, was abducted two days ago while attending classes at the French Institute of Notre Dame De Sion, a private school. A spokesman for the family said no contact with the person or persons holding the boy had been made. The father, Robert C. Greenleaf, has said he believes professional criminals are involved, making it more likely Bobby will be released unharmed.

Arranging For Cash

Police reported they had obtained no new information that would lead them to believe they are on the right track. Greenleaf, through a banker friend, made arrangements to obtain cash at any time of the day or night should the need arise.

Robert Lederman, a business associate and spokesman for the family, said the whereabouts of the child is a mystery.

Lederman and Greenleaf, saying it appeared the kidnapers were trying to make contact, left the Greenleaf home in suburban Mission Hills, Kan., for a brief period yesterday. When they returned, however, they said no contact had been made.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The return of prisoners of war from Korea was a happy occasion that brought joy to thousands of homes. Most of us would like to ignore the other side of the story—the ugly side.

But it cannot be ignored—not if there is any real meaning to the red badge of courage worn by the living and the dead who stood fast against Red propaganda and torture. Sooner or later the armed services will pass judgment on the conduct of some prisoners while they were in the hands of the Communists.

Presumably, there will be no problem in classifying any prisoner who chooses of his own free will to remain with the Communists. He would be considered a deserter and in effect a traitor to his country.

Study Each Case

Secretary of Defense Wilson has said individual cases will be studied to determine if there had been "an unreasonable failure to measure up to the standard of individual conduct which is expected even of a prisoner of war, or deviations from standards of behavior prescribed by law (the code of military justice)."

These cases fall into three general categories:

1. Those prisoners who collaborated with the Reds and "ratted" on their comrades in order to gain favors for themselves even though it meant greater misery for others.
2. Those prisoners who, under pressure of threats and torture, signed false confessions and made propaganda broadcasts for the Reds which Wilson termed "contrary to the interests of their country."

Parents Are Shocked

3. Those prisoners who, the Reds say, have refused repatriation and have chosen to remain with the Communists. Only 23 out of more than 3,000 Americans are listed in this class, and their shocked parents refuse to believe they are acting voluntarily.

Indications have been the military will be sympathetic toward the former prisoners, taking into account their suffering at the hands of the Reds.

But where is the line to be drawn in an "unreasonable failure" to measure up to the standard of conduct expected of military men? There is the rub.

The easy and perhaps the popular way out would be to forget the whole thing. But such a course would set a dangerous precedent for the future.

Gen. William Dean says he told his captors they could go ahead and carry out their threats to cut out his tongue if they wished—but he wouldn't be a propaganda agent for them. He said he refused to be considered a traitor to his country. Other prisoners told of defying the Communists even to the point of risking death, and such defiance did mean death for some.

Sympathy For Some

Other prisoners say they succumbed to Red demands only after hours of mental and physical torture when it seemed the only course to save themselves and others from death.

There is tremendous sympathy for the prisoners and what they endured. Most of us wonder in our hearts how we would react in a similar situation. We wonder whether we would be a Dean or someone with an easier breaking point. No man can say with certainty until he has been put to such a test.

But neither can a man forecast how he will conduct himself in combat until he has experienced it. And yet the armed forces have stern rules of conduct governing combat men. The rules must be stern because the very life of the fighting units and of the nation may depend on observance of these rules. They cannot be taken lightly.

The trouble here is that the enemy fights by no rules of humane warfare and recognizes no agreement on treatment of prisoners. And so the military must apply its old rules of conduct to a terrible new situation.

The closet door can hardly be closed on this skeleton.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ONE'S LEISURE

In my reading I came across this sentence: "The manner in which people employ their leisure is the most revealing thing about them." We freely throw ourselves into the work that we love most, but with our leisure we have a personal freedom that is unique. It may be a favorite room, with silent friends (books) all about one, or it may be some hobby for recreation or relaxation. It's always there that our armor shines!

There must be a thousand witnesses to every vibration of my personality in the library where I spend so much of my time, alone and in a mood of ecstatic joy. There it is that I feast upon my leisure. I am sure that such an experience is known to many. The manner in which a person employs his leisure classifies him. Anywhere you meet people in groups you will find this to be true. It may be in night clubs, bar rooms, hotel lobbies, pool rooms, or some selected spot that is full of familiarity. I read this summer of a man who employed his leisure hours in the making of bird houses. Many a one has turned his leisure into a fortune!

Our leisure hours may well, in time, prove to be the most significant hours of our life. In them we may discover ourselves in the most unsuspected manner. The great law of gravitation was discovered in a moment of leisure with a watchful eye! My friend John Kieran is known to thousands as a walking encyclopedia, but his leisure hours are spent in the study of birds, about which he is an authority. He wouldn't live in a place that wasn't near to a meeting place of birds.

The obituary columns of our newspapers tell many a story of those who had no time for a happy and profitable leisure. The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes used to translate the classics "just to exercise my mind," in his own words. It's the leisure hours, happily used, that have often opened up a new world to many a one. Never should they be spent in idleness!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Unpraised Broom."

TITLES AND MAN
Not by titles men bestow.
Nor by the honors paid on earth
Do men in stature greater grow.
Or down the future prove their worth.

Unchanged both heart and mind remain.
The self-made man, with medals new,
Must wake at morn with more to gain
And more thought the day to do.

He still must face tomorrow's cares,
Though high his name on honor's roll.
The title he so proudly wears
'Til death is not life's final goal.

Princeton PG's Rebelling Against Dining In Gowns

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Thirty

Princeton University graduate students are putting up a fight for democracy and the un-soupy sleeve.

The recalcitrant 30 are refusing to wear academic gowns to dinner. The Graduate School revived a tradition of wearing the gowns to dinner.

But the rebels say the gowns are uncomfortable and that the long, flowing sleeves have a tendency to drag through soup, mashed potatoes and other edibles. They Graduate School's students last spring showed they were opposed to the gowns 2-1.

Can't Vote Sometimes
So the 30 eat in a side room at Proctor Hall while their 180 conforming brothers eat in the main dining hall.

Hugh Stott Taylor, dean of the Graduate College, says he will not budge from the rule.

Taylor said the gowns are "aesthetically pleasing."

As for democracy, he said, "Some things aren't decided by vote. For example, women aren't allowed in the dining hall but I am sure if it were put to a student vote they would all be for it."

Something New In Savings Plans Here

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Here's a new wrinkle in savings plans:

When 157 of the city's 18,000 employees opened their pay checks last week, they found their checks dated 10-29-63—which would have made them valueless until Oct. 29, 1963.

The city treasurer's office authorized banks and check cashing agencies to accept the checks anyhow.

Letter to the Editor

The Gettysburg Times,
Dear Sir:
The most dangerous street and intersection in the Borough is completely ignored by the local officials who are responsible for public safety and welfare. I mean what is known as Wall Street, running east and west from Baltimore St. to South Stratton St., one-half block south of East High Street. It is my understanding that this is an ordained street, although it is no wider than an ordinary alley.

Wall Street and the alley east of Baltimore St. form a cross intersection that to my mind is virtually a death trap. Since I have maintained a sign-painting shop just east of the intersection on Wall St., I have witnessed a score of collisions at the crossing, but it has only been by an act of God that these collisions were without casualties. Each time I hear the crash I rush out of my shop expecting to see a smashed car or a dead person, which I always believe will be a child. The law of averages convinces me that it will eventually come to pass that someone will be fatally injured, either at the intersection, or in the street itself, as small children living in the private homes along the street have only a 14-in. sidewalk on which to play. No sane person can expect a small child to stay within a 14-in. space while playing, and the morons who drive this "short-cut" at speeds up to 60 miles per hour never look for a child to be playing in this "alley."

I offered to erect signs of my own, but present ordinances would outlaw the signs. Most of the Borough police realize these situations, but they are not the bosses of the situation.

using Liberty St. to East Confederate Ave., turning west in the alley south of East Middle St., driving west to the alley running south to the east of South Stratton St., and following that alley to Wall St., to Baltimore St. Nobody ever stops at the intersection of which I write, neither those using Wall St., nor those driving the alley in the rear of Baltimore St.

When High School lets out at noon, many of the students driving cars will race up the alley leading to East High St., and completely ignore the Wall St. intersection. At the same time, hundreds of students are hurrying up the same alley on foot to enjoy a few moments "uptown" while school is out. I am trying to explain that both Wall St. and the alley are full of walking children, playing children, and airplanes without wings at the same time, all day long.

There is absolutely nothing, not even a sign, to inform the public that the intersection is there, nor to caution slow driving on this street or in the alley, and the intersection is absolutely blind on three sides! Vision is obscured by fences, barns, and trees, and most persons are in the crossing before they even realize the place is there. Can't something be done, not only to protect the innocent children of taxpayers living there, but the high school students and others who use the arteries? At least the crossing could be cautioned, and the students could be forced to use Baltimore St. instead of the alley.

I offered to erect signs of my own, but present ordinances would outlaw the signs. Most of the Borough police realize these situations, but they are not the bosses of the situation.

578 HAVE BEEN DEPORTED SINCE START OF YEAR

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rundown on the Justice Department's program for getting undesirables out of the country today showed 578 aliens so classified have been deported since the start of the year.

Dep. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers commented, in a speech prepared for an Immigration and Naturalization Service conference, "We can well be proud of these figures and the number which will follow in the ensuing months."

Of the total, 536 were described as criminal, immoral, or narcotic addicts, and the 42 others as subversive.

3 Hoodlums Deported
Justice Department officials said today that when the Republicans took over on Jan. 20, they inherited from the Democratic administration a "preferred list" of proposed exclusions which included 96 racketeers and 33 subversives, mostly Communists.

Officials said this elite group has now been expanded to cover 131 accused as racketeers and 142 as

Baltimore Orioles Set Up In Business As Major Leaguers; Put Up Cash For Browns' Club

By BEN PHLEGAR
NEW YORK (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles today set up in business as a major league club for the first time in 50 years, pouring thousands of dollars in fresh money into the American League's weakest franchise.

In 62 swift minutes last evening a syndicate of wealthy Baltimore industrialists headed by Clarence W. Miles bought control of the impoverished St. Louis Browns for $2,475,000, agreed to pay outstanding debts of about $600,000 and announced they would spend "all the money we can" to transform the seventh-place team into a winner.

Miles' associates, who include brewery, munitions and airplane executives, obtained control of the Browns from Bill Veeck at the end of three days wrangling in the most convincing fashion—by producing cold cash when other interested parties were having trouble getting up the ante.

Nailed On Sunday
Between Sunday night, when the American League turned them down, and last evening the Baltimoreans increased their immediate bid by more than 1½ million dollars.

Money made the difference. Although Baltimore alone among the seven cities under consideration offered a suitable major league ball park and a concrete proposal when the civic delegations were received by the American League on Sunday, only four clubs voted in favor of the move on the first ballot.

Failed To Get West Bid
A three-hour league session Monday brought a proposal by Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, to negotiate for Veeck's stock on behalf of unnamed West Coast interests. Miles' group immediately announced plans to match the bid. Originally they had been dickering for only half of Veeck's stock.

Yesterday Webb ruefully reported failure and acknowledged that the Baltimore deal was the best available. He made the motion to approve it.

He did win one concession for the West—a change in the league constitution providing for a 10-team circuit at a time when it would be feasible to include such Pacific Coast cities as Los Angeles and San Francisco.

SERIES BRIEFS

NEW YORK (AP)—Before entering the first battle, Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees fell over himself being polite. His final pregame statement: "We've got a nice team and they have a splendid team over there so it should be a splendid World Series."

Both Stengel and Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers have been warned by Commissioner Ford Frick that beanballs will not be tolerated. He also instructed them not to blast the umpires after the games for what they considered adverse decisions.

Dressen is keeping a secret "book" on the Yankees batters, but he is willing to discuss reserve infielder Willie Miranda, who isn't much of a hitter. "His weakness is pitched balls," quipped Cholly.

Television officials say this series will be telecast by the largest network in history—119 stations in 113 cities. And no fewer than 750 radio stations will carry the broadcast.

The Brooks allotted six tickets to each Yankee player for the Ebbets Field games but received only five for the stadium games themselves.

Three scalpers have been tossed in jail for trying to sell six tickets to Ebbets Field games for $170. The tickets had a face value of $42.

If any game isn't finished by darkness—which is unlikely in view of the early starting time—the lights in either park will be turned on.

HOLDS SCORING RECORD

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Bill Ingram, who quarterbacked the Middies in 1916, 1917 and 1918, holds the Naval Academy individual scoring record with 162 points in one season. During the 1917 campaign Ingram scored 18 touchdowns and converted 48 points after touchdowns. Navy's record that year was seven wins and only one loss.

EX-TEAMMATES MEET SATURDAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Former Reading, Pa., High School teammates Bob Lebegood and Lenny Moore will fill key roles in Saturday's gridiron encounter between Penn and Penn State. This time, however, they'll be on opposite sides of the line of scrimmage.

The pair, both sophomores, turned in outstanding performances for their respective schools last Saturday. Moore, a halfback, dashed 64 yards for an apparent touchdown for Penn State. A backfield-in-motion penalty wiped out the long run, however, as the Nittany Lions were shutout by Wisconsin, 20-0.

Lebegood, only second-year man in George Munger's starting lineup against Vanderbilt, set up the winning touchdown in Penn's 13-7 triumph. The Penn attack had stalled with fourth down and 16 to go on the Commodores' 24-yard line, midway in the final period, when the sophomore end grabbed a pass and streaked for a first down on the two. Penn scored on the next play.

Navy scored 147 points last football season to its opponents 75. It was the first time the Midshipmen had accomplished this since the 1945 campaign when they had 220 to 65 for the opposition.

BULLET-TERROR GAME WILL BE 24TH IN SERIES

One of the nation's oldest small college football rivalries will be renewed Saturday night when the Gettysburg Bullets tangle with Western Maryland in the 24th game of a series that started in 1891 with Western Maryland acting as host team, the contest will be staged on the Hanover High School field, and will be sponsored by the city's American Legion Post.

Gettysburg holds a decisive margin in the long standing feud. The Bullets have won 18 times, Western Maryland four, and one game has ended in a tie. Gettysburg's 28-6 victory last season stopped a Western Maryland 13-game winning streak. It was for his play in that game that Gettysburg halfback Joe Ujohal, who will be in the starting Bullet backfield Saturday, received the Philadelphia Maxwell Award.

Though disappointed by Gettysburg's 19-7 loss to the University of Delaware in last Saturday's season opener, coach John Yovicin figures his Bullets to rebound against Western Maryland. A good bet to see plenty of action in Saturday's arclight is sophomore Ernie Paliszewski, a scabcat from Johnstown who reeled off a couple of nice runs in the Delaware tussle.

Bob Eppelman, junior fullback from Gloucester City, N. J., picked up right where he left off last year by netting 51 yards in eight carries against the Blue Hens. His effort were tops for the day so far as the Bullets were concerned. Last season Eppelman led the club in rushing with 676 yards in 97 carries.

NEW MARK SET AT BLOOMSBURG

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A Delaware-owned horse grabbed top money of $5,820 yesterday in the $13,235 two-year-old pace stake race at the Bloomsburg Fair.

Adolis Harry, owned by J. H. Lyons of Harrington, Del., set a new Bloomsburg Fair mark for two-year-old pacers with a 2:04.2 performance in his best mile heat. The horse's combined time for two heats was just 3-5 of a second under the world mark.

Famous Mite, owned by S. A. Walters and son of Port Fairfield, Me., took second money, while Adam P. Helst of West Lawn, Pa., was fourth in the first heat and second in the second.

Anchora Hanover, owned by John Seymour, DeKalb Junction, N. Y., captured the three-year-old trot stake with a total purse of $12,875. Anchora Hanover, which won the first and third mile heats, won $5,218. Winner in the second heat was Prospectus of the Genesee Stables, Rochester, N. Y.

Tebbetts Looking For New Pitchers

NEW YORK (AP)—George (Birdie) Tebbetts went shopping today for right-handed pitchers as the new manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs. Tebbetts, who piloted Indianapolis to fourth place in the American Assn. this season after 16½ years of major league catching, was signed to a two-year contract late yesterday as the successor to the recently fired Rogers Hornsby.

"I don't know much about the Cincinnati players," said Tebbetts. "After all, I spent my days playing in the American League."

But General Manager Gabe Paul quickly advised his new field boss of the club's need for pitchers—particularly those that throw right-handed. So Birdie joined Paul in sounding out several club owners here for the World Series.

Yankee Hurling Staff Is Key To Forthcoming Series

(This is the last of four stories comparing the Yankees and Dodgers.)

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

NEW YORK — The Dodgers hold what appears to be a decided edge over the Yankees in hitting and fielding but the World Champions are an awesome aggregation when it comes to pitching.

The American League pennant winners for the fifth straight year boast five pitchers with a total of 16 World Series victories as against only seven setbacks.

The Brooklyn staff can count only four World Series victories from among its entire staff of 11 pitchers. Heading the Yankee list is Allie Reynolds who has a 6-2 World Series record and would like to win two more Series games before hanging up his glove for the oil business in Oklahoma City.

During the Yankees' unprecedented fifth straight pennant drive, Reynolds completed only three games, but he has been invaluable as a fireman.

ACE DURING WINNING STREAK

The Indian was Casey Stengel's big wheel during that 18-game winning streak. Stengel called on him by netting 51 yards in eight carries against the Blue Hens. His effort were tops for the day so far as the Bullets were concerned. Last season Eppelman led the club in rushing with 676 yards in 97 carries.

Reynolds is a Series workhorse, having appeared in three of the Yankees' four winning games last fall following a stretch drive that found him working in the bullpen every day. Yet, after losing the opener he shut out Joe Black and the Dodgers on four hits, 2-0, in the fourth game. In game six he saved the seventh and final game in relief.

In the 1951 Series, Reynolds beat the Giants, 6-2, and in 1950 at Philadelphia he beat Robin Roberts, 2-1, then saved the final of the four-game sweep for Ed Ford.

In 1949, Allie won the opener in the Stadium, 1-0. A two-hitter, it was his best Series effort and one of his top thrills in baseball. Tommy Henrich decided the contest with a ninth-inning homer.

Saved Game For Lopat

In the fourth game that year, Reynolds saved the game for Ed Lopat. The Indian retired the last of the Yankees' big five. Besides, they have Bob Kuzava who shut the door in final Series games, against the Giants in '51 and the Dodgers last year. In all, the blond southpaw has faced 11 Series batters and has yet to allow a base hit.

3 Other Hurlers

Of the other Yankee pitchers, Tom Gorman, Jim McDonald and Bill Miller are the only ones likely to see service. Steve Kraly and Art Schallcock are rookies.

The Yankees have a well-rested pitching staff. The Dodgers have, too, only their hurlers have not been as impressive during the closing weeks of the campaign.

Roe beat Lopat in the Stadium last October and it is likely that he will pitch either the opener or the second game there this time. Preach's only other Series win was a masterpiece. In the second game in the Stadium in 1949 he blanked the Yankees with five singles and a double, 1-0. Gil Hodges—the culprit of the 1951 playoff with the Giants and a sad 0 for 21 last fall—drove in the game's only run with a second-inning single.

Other Dodger Series winners are Carl Erskine and Joe Black. Erskine pitched last year's memorable Sunday game in the Stadium, retiring the last 19 Yankees to win, 6-5, in 11 innings.

Had One Setback
Carl's only Series setback came

Bob Koontz On Red Devil Frosh Squad

Robert Koontz, former Littleton High School football star, is a member of the freshman football squad at Dickinson College which opens its four-game season Friday by opposing Stevens Trade School at Lancaster.

The squad is composed of but 16 candidates and is being coached by Harry Bush, former Western Maryland star.

This year's team is the first freshman outfit at Dickinson since 1949. In addition to Friday's game, other contests are scheduled with Franklin and Marshall, Western Maryland and Mercersburg Academy.

BIG PIKE

TORONTO (AP)—Pike are being caught in waters that didn't exist a few years ago. The new waters, extensions to old lakes, have been created by various hydro-electric developments. Great areas of low level land that had no commercial values now are a happy fishing ground for pike fishermen.

The Ontario lands and Forests Department claims that pike are being caught by the bushel in these new lakes and he influx of sportsmen has not diminished the supply. The pike have gained in size and number to such an extent that the bag limit of six per day is reached in most northern waters.

Scouting Series

Reynolds began his campaign of always coming up with at least one Series victory back in 1947 when he beat the Dodgers, 10-3.

When the Yankees clinched the flag, Reynolds' record was 11-7, but hardly attests to his value as a game saver.

Raschi, 13-5 when the Yankees sewed up the pennant with 13 days of the season remaining, is right behind Reynolds in World Series success. Vic has a 5-2 record. Raschi won the second and sixth games in 1952, beating Brooklyn, 7-1 and 3-2, respectively.

In Game 2 he allowed but three singles and fanned nine.

Raschi lost to Preacher Roe, 1-0, in 1949 but won the fifth game of that Series, 10-6. In 1951 he beat the Giants in the sixth and final game, 4-3. In 1950 he turned in his most brilliant Series win, beating Jim Konstanty and the Phillies, 1-0, on a two-hitter.

Beat Giants Twice

Lopat has a 3-1 Series record. In 1951 he beat the Giants, 3-1 and 13-1, permitting nine singles and one double in 18 innings. In 1949, he beat Brooklyn, 6-4, with Reynolds relieving in the sixth when five straight singles floored Lopat.

Ford, who returned this season after two years in the Army, won his only Series start against the Phillies in 1950.

Johnny Sain, a 14-game winner, is the fifth Yankee to have won a Series. He did it in 1948 when pitching for the Boston Braves. He beat Bob Feller and the Indians, 1-0, in that celebrated pick-off play game in Boston. Sain lost to Steve Gromek, 2-1, in 1948 on a Larry Doby homer in the third inning and lost the fifth game last year, 6-5, in relief of Ewell Blackwell.

That covers the Yankees' big five. Besides, they have Bob Kuzava who shut the door in final Series games, against the Giants in '51 and the Dodgers last year. In all, the blond southpaw has faced 11 Series batters and has yet to allow a base hit.

GHS, HANOVER SCRAP FRIDAY FOR 1ST SPOT

The victor of the Gettysburg-Hanover High School football game here Friday evening will take over first place in the South Penn conference regardless of the outcome of the Mechanicsburg-Hershey game also carded for that night.

A win for the Warriors, present leaders, would give them a total of 200 points whereas a win for Hanover would mean 110, enough to offset the 100 points for the victor in the game at Hershey.

The advance sale of reserved tickets for the coming contest is going well and more than 4,000 fans are expected.

Friday's tilt will mark the 25th in the series between the schools with Gettysburg trailing in victories 9 to 14. One game ended in a tie.

Series Results

Scores of previous games, with the Gettysburg total first, are: 1927, 13-0; 1928, 0-13; 1930, 0-25; 1931, 26-13; 1932, 7-7; 1933, 21-0; 1934, 7-6; 1935, 19-0; 1936, 27-0; 1937, 0-18; 1938, 6-7; 1939, 0-7; 1940, 0-13; 1942, 6-16; 1943, 0-38; 1944, 0-27; 1945, 0-26; 1946, 7-6; 1947, 0-44; 1948, 13-14; 1949, 14-0; 1950, 6-13; 1951, 28-6; 1952, 7-9.

Like Hanover, Hershey and Mechanicsburg will be making their debut in the conference. Both are big favorites as contenders for the 1953 title. Hershey, winner of three straight this season in non-conference games, is the defending conference titlist.

Waynesboro plays at Carlisle and Chambersburg at Shippensburg in non-conference games.

FACE THREE TOUGH FOES

NOTRE DAME, Ind. (AP)—The Notre Dame home football season will open with three tough foes in succession. They face Pittsburg on Oct. 17, Georgia Tech on the 24th and Navy on the 31st. The Pitt eleven will be returning to the scene of its 22-19 triumph over the Irish a year ago. Georgia Tech will be playing in Notre Dame Stadium for the first time since 1943. Navy will be making an appearance for the first time since 1937.

In Brooklyn last year following a fall from a stepladder in the clubhouse. He was standing on it to watch the rain. He was knocked out in six innings.

Erskine has been Brooklyn's best this year. At pennant clinching time his record was 19-6. But that's not the half of it. On July last he had a 5-4 mark. Thus, he was 14-2 at a time when Chuck Dressen needed all the pitching he could muster to offset a tenacious Milwaukee team.

Black won the opener last year, 4-2, when the then-relief ace pitched his first complete game in the majors. Black made two other starts but Dodger hitters felled him and he lost, 2-0 and 4-2. However, Black has been a failure this year both in starting and relief roles.

ACE IN RELIEF

His bullpen spot was taken by Clem Labine who last pitched a complete ball game on Oct. 2, 1951, when he blanked the Giants, 10-0, in the second of three playoff games. However, Labine has the best earned run mark in Brooklyn this season and has been an ace in relief.

Russ Meyer throws home run balls but nevertheless beat Milwaukee five times in seven decisions and helped wrap up Brooklyn's pennant, as was predicted last spring when he was obtained from the Phillies in a "swooty" deal. The Phils had intended the Braves get Meyer. Seems the Phillies were wrong all the way around for had Meyer gone to Milwaukee, nee Boston, the National League pennant might be flying out in beer town. Meyer was 14-5 when the Dodgers sewed up the flag.

Loes Might Start

Billy Loes, who surprised even himself by going so far before losing the sixth game last year, might start in this Series. With Roe, Erskine and Meyer appearing as Dressen's big three the fourth starting job seems to be a fight among Black, Loes and Bob Milliken, a rookie who has won eight decisions during the race.

Rookie Johnny Pordes has been troubled by poor control and the rest of Brooklyn's staff includes Jim Hughes, Erv Palica and Ben Wade. The Yankees have a big pitching edge and most World Series have been won on the mound. However, the fact that this is the greatest hitting team in Brooklyn history makes his Series all the more interesting. Yankee pitchers are older but they have the savvy. But this time they must stop hot Dodger bats.

Victory-Starved Cannners, Bubblers Meet Thursday On Biglerville Gridiron

An overflow crowd is expected to jam Musselman Memorial Field at Biglerville Thursday evening when the Biglerville High Cannners tangle with Bud Ecker's Boiling Springs High gridders. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

Keen rivalry exists between the schools which promises to make the contest a ding-dong affair, both teams sorely needing victories.

Coach Gene Haas' Cannners tied Littlestown in their opener and then dropped decisions to Carlisle and Columbia. Boiling Springs lost to Camp Hill and Hummelstown before downing Enola last Saturday 20-12.

Despite losing to Columbia last week, Coaches Haas and Bill Coradetti were pleased with the improvement made by their charges, particularly in the second half. The defensive play of Bill Sheaffer, right end; line-smashing of Burnell Dehoff, fullback and defensive work of Dean Stary, big tackle, who was playing his initial game after an appendectomy, were a few of the pleasing performances to the coaches.

BOY, 16, ADMITS KILLING FATHER OF 6 CHILDREN

PITTSBURGH (P)—A 16-year-old Pittsburgh youth awaited court action on a murder charge Tuesday after taking full blame for the street slaying of David Jenkins, 51, father of six.

Homicide Capt. Joseph J. Flynn said Robert Abersold of the North Side section admitted Monday he beat and killed Jenkins to death, clearing 18-year-old William Hindley.

However, Hindley was held as a material witness in the slaying and on a charge of aggravated assault and battery in an earlier attack on John F. Stevens, 41, who roomed at Jenkins' home. Meanwhile, Police Supt. James W. Slusser ordered a crackdown on teen-aged gangs. He said police have been plagued by juvenile hoodlum sprees for more than a year.

Four Others Nabbed

Four other youths were rounded up after the fatal fight. They are Cyril Holmes, 17, of Midland, who was staying with a sister here; James Needham, 16; Robert Neely, 14, and James Ford, 16. Holmes, Needham and Neely were charged with aggravated assault and battery in the attack on Stevens and Ford was held as a material witness.

Jenkins was assaulted Saturday night after he went out in search of the gang who had beaten Stevens. Flynn said Abersold admitted hitting Jenkins and kicking him in the head after Jenkins refused his request for a cigarette. The Allied Motion Picture The-

GLASS INDUSTRY AWAITING IKE'S TARIFF ANSWER

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower has to act within 60 days on a federal Tariff Commission report affecting the American hand-made glassware industry, an industry spokesman said Tuesday.

The industry—largely concentrated in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania—wants tariffs or import quotas imposed on foreign-made hand glassware.

The tariff commission held hearings early this year on the industry's claim that its business was being hurt by the sale in the United States of glassware made by low-paid workers in such countries as West Germany and Japan. The commission's recommendation is still secret.

O. R. Strackbein, chairman of the nationwide Committee of Industry, Agriculture and Labor on Import-export Policy, said the commission had to make its glassware report to the President by Sept. 24. Under the law, he said, Eisenhower must approve or disapprove the decision within 60 days after receiving the report.

Watson, president of Cities Service, the new premium gasoline, "a result of years of continuing research," went into production three months ago. This was following demonstrations before groups of scientists and automotive engineers who checked on five outstanding claims being made by the company for the new "5-D" premium in use: (1) improved automotive operation attributable to the high octane value of the gasoline; (2) a new high standard in engine cleanliness through its ability to reduce harmful carbon deposits; the company maintains that this is the first gasoline to do this; (3) superior ability to existing competitive fuels in preventing the formation of rust in the fuel system; (4) presence of an anti-oxidant lubricant that protects the upper cylinders, top rings and valve stems, and (5) the ability to stop stalling caused by carburetor icing in cold weather.

Strackbein said he believed the commission's report, if it had been against granting relief to the industry, would have been released by now.

One informed source, asking that his name not be used, said he had "reason to believe" that the commission's vote was a tie—the three Republican members favoring tariff or quota relief, and the three Democrats voting in opposition.

This would mean that the President would rule on the question. Eisenhower has said that for the present he is against granting tariff relief unless there are "compelling reasons," Strackbein said.

The President has appointed a 17-member commission to report on the broad subject of tariffs and reciprocal trade agreements. This report is not due until March.

Plans Progressing For Annual Farmers' Fair At Dillsburg On Oct. 22, 23 And 24; Two Parades

Dillsburg's Farmer's Fair plans are progressing and with the help of the town's people, this year's fair is expected to be the "greatest yet."

Last year was the first the Dillsburg Community Fair Association had been in charge of the event and that one proved the most successful up to that time. This year the president of the association, Earl Robson, guarantees "an enjoyable and memorable time for all ages."

Other officers of the association are vice president, Richard Dear-dorff; secretary, Mrs. J. W. Yoh; treasurer, Scott A. Dick; assistant secretary, Dale Cooke, and assistant treasurer, Earl Pentz. Directors for this year are Gilpin Cooke, Earl Kerns, William O. Downs, John Culp and Glenn Cromer.

Many Groups Helping
The Junior Chamber of Commerce will be selling Booster tickets for 50-cent donations. The purpose of the Booster ticket is to ease the financial obligation of the business and professional men in Dillsburg who previously financed the fair.

With the purchase of each ticket the individual will also be in the running for a ceramic dill pickle filled with $25 in quarters. The pickle was made by Robert C. Paxson, art teacher at Northern Joint High School, and may be seen in Krall's Drug Store. Advertising has been the responsibility of the Lions Club and the Woman's Club of Dillsburg collected all the exhibit award money.

Boyd Gerber, Emory Harbold and Donald Fry will be in charge of the finding parking spaces for the hundreds of people who will witness the fair. All entertainment during the fair will be provided by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary.

The Fantastic Parade on Saturday night, October 24, is the personal "baby" of Marshal Earl Kerns and many aides with Miss Janice Crawford being chairman for the Kiddies Parade on Friday night, October 23. The publicity-committee is composed of Herb Harris, Doug Harter and Melvin Brown. Harley Spoerlein and the P.F.A. will be responsible for the floor arrangement and construction of exhibit stands by the community Memorial Hall. Electric facilities will be provided by the Metropolitan Edison Co.

Exhibit Chairmen
The following are chairmen of the exhibits in the hall: Richard Dear-dorff, Gilpin Cooke, Glenn Cromer, Stewart Lehman and John W. Yoh. Following is the list of committees and their chairmen: Eggs, Glenn Cromer; farm crops, Laverne Bentz; vegetables, Stewart Lehman; fruits and nuts, Harold Wolfe; baked goods, Mrs. Laverne Bentz; canned goods, Mrs. Paul Myers; sewing and handiwork, Mrs. L. E. Gillette; fine arts and handicrafts, Robert C. Paxson; flowers, Mrs. Wilfred Byers.

Arrangements have also been made by Dr. Martha L. Bailey to secure the free chest x-ray mobile unit in Dillsburg, which will be on the square all day Friday, October 23. All citizens are urged to take advantage of this worthwhile opportunity.

Crown King and Queen
With the VFW and auxiliary being in charge of entertainment this year, Thursday evening, October 22, will feature the crowning of the winners of the King and Queen contest, plus various specialty acts. Tentative plans now include a horse-shoe pitching contest scheduled for Saturday afternoon and also the new Farmall Super C "tractor square dance" which will be presented through the courtesy of Dillsburg Farm Supply. A soccer game is also being arranged.

Following are the exhibit rules and regulations for persons interested in displaying: All exhibitors may enter displays at the Dillsburg Community Hall on Wednesday evening, October 21, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. and Thursday, October 22, from 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. The managers of the departments may at their discretion, refuse any or all exhibits after the above mentioned dates and hours.

Judging will begin promptly at 12 noon Thursday. No exhibits are to be removed from the auditorium before 10 p.m. Saturday, and then only with the presentation of exhibitors' identification ticket. The fair association assumes no responsibility for loss or damage to exhibits from any cause but the best care possible will be taken.

The judges will not award a premium to any article unless worthy. All entries must be owned by the exhibitor or some member of his family. No prizes or ribbons will be granted for any article which does not come under a class listed in the premium list. Entered exhibits may not be withdrawn. Premium cards and ribbons must be displayed during the duration of the fair. Failure to do so will work forfeiture of awards.

A worship service was conducted in the morning. This annual meeting is customary at the Warrington meeting house in order that a "church charter" may be retained, despite the fact that not enough descendants of original pioneer members have remained in the area to form a regular congregation. A number have affiliated with other denominations, but return to the Friends service each year for this traditional worship.

The Rev. and Mrs. Percy D. Brown of the Wellsville EUB parsonage, entertained there last week for the meeting of the Excelsior Class of Red Mount Church which is one of the three churches served by the Rev. Mr. Brown.

The date for the parcel post sale and entertainment in the basement of the Lutheran church at Two Churches has been set for Friday evening, October 2, at 7 p.m. and not October 7 as previously announced. There will be a "sing" and a session of refreshments in addition to the sale.

AMENDMENTS TO JOBLESS PAY BILL EXPLAINED

The distinction between "covered" and "non-covered" employment in determining eligibility for unemployment insurance benefits is less important as the result of recent amendments to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law, David M. Walker, secretary of labor and industry, said today.

Secretary Walker explained that for "covered" employment employers are required to pay contributions to the state based on wages paid their employees, while "non-covered" employment does not require such payments by employers. He listed farm labor, government employment, work for hospitals and non-profit groups, and domestic work as examples of "non-covered" employment.

A recent amendment to the law provides that refusal of suitable work, voluntarily leaving work without good cause, and discharge or suspension for misconduct shall be considered in determining the eligibility of a claimant for benefits regardless of whether or not such work was in "covered" or "non-covered" employment. It had been held previous to the amendment that only "covered" employment would be considered in such eligibility determinations.

Secretary Walker added that another amendment on this point will be to the advantage of workers generally. It provides that earnings from both "covered" and "non-covered" employment shall be considered in determining whether or not the claimant has earned enough to overcome a determination of ineligibility due to a voluntary quit without good cause or discharge for wilful misconduct. The law provides that a worker who is out of a job because of voluntarily leaving work without good cause or because he has been discharged for misconduct must earn eight times his weekly benefit rate before he will be eligible to receive unemployment insurance payments.

Another amendment provides that an employee who is suspended by an employer after making "a reasonable effort to return to work" after a voluntary leave of absence will not have to earn eight times his weekly benefit rate to be eligible for benefits.

Secretary Walker advised workers and employers to take any questions they might have to the nearest local office of the Pennsylvania Employment Service for prompt and courteous answers. Lawrence Cummins, manager of the local office, today invited employees and employers to visit the office at 39 West St. for further information on this subject.

INTERVIEWS OF POWS DELAYED; BOTH SIDES FUSS

PANMUNJOM (P)—The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission said Tuesday that explanations to Allied and Communist war prisoners who have refused to go home may be delayed again—this time by a dispute over the ground rules.

Explanation teams which will attempt to persuade the POWs to return home originally were scheduled to start talking to prisoners last Saturday, but the talks were postponed until Thursday because of a dispute over the ground rules.

An Indian spokesman for the commission said today the meetings may be pushed back again unless the Reds and Allies accept explanation centers already constructed.

Both Ask Changes

He said both sides want extensive changes. The Communists, he said, object to centers built by the U. N. Command because Red teams would have to pass through all the POWs camps to reach them.

"They want to avoid them because of hostile prisoners," the spokesman said.

Allied dissatisfaction centered on explanation booths and compounds built by the Reds. They say both are too small.

The Allied objection apparently stems from the dispute over whether prisoners should be interviewed individually or in groups. The Allies want group explanations while the Reds insist on individual interviews.

An Allied spokesman said the U. N. Command told the Repatriation Commission it could not make the changes by the Thursday deadline, but promised they would be completed as fast as possible.

Hold Long Sessions

There was no immediate word on Communist remodeling plans.

The commission met in a long session Tuesday night, presumably to discuss snarls holding up the processing of 22,600 Red and more than 300 Allied POWs.

A commission spokesman later said a press conference would be held Wednesday morning probably to announce rules governing the explanations.

He said the commission also may answer an Allied protest that it had distributed a letter tainted with Communist propaganda to the balky POWs.

He said a statement answering the charge already had been approved and "as far as the commission is concerned, they have not indulged in any propaganda for either side."

U. S. EXTENDS HAVEN TO POLE WHO FLED REDS

WASHINGTON (P)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said Tuesday he has granted a temporary U. S. entry permit to Polish political refugee Jan Hajdukiewicz.

The Pole, 27, made headlines Aug. 24 when he arrived at Kangnung, in South Korea, as a member of the neutral nations inspection team helping to handle the armistice arrangements, and walked away from several members of the Polish delegation as they were boarding a plane to return to North Korea.

Hajdukiewicz went quickly to an American officer at a United Nations Command post at the Kangnung Air Base, and begged for asylum in the United States.

Waiting On Okinawa

He has been on Okinawa pending consideration of his plea.

The attorney general granted the temporary entry permit, under his special discretionary power, after conferences with the State Department.

Hajdukiewicz will fly from Okinawa to San Francisco by way of Manila and Honolulu, and is due to arrive on the West Coast Thursday.

The announcement said a State Department representative will meet him in San Francisco. Hajdukiewicz was employed last June in Poland as a civilian interpreter with the Polish Communist delegation to the neutral inspection team.

Garber's appointment extends to January 1956. Admitted to the bar in 1922, Judge Garber is a Dickinson Law School graduate. He has been engaged in general law practice in Carlisle since 1929.

Friday who won his heart, were married Tuesday. Thousands of well-wishers and curious surged outside St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Cathedral as they spoke their vows.

In the cathedral, which seats about 900, were most of the top figures of Washington official and diplomatic life. Nearly every seat was filled for the ceremony and the nuptial low mass which followed.

The Rev. Fr. William J. Awalt of St. Matthew's performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Fr. Augustine Maloney of Augustinian College here.

TINY FIREBALL STARTLES MANY MONDAY NIGHT

PHILADELPHIA (P)—A tiny fireball streaked through the skies across Pennsylvania Monday night startling chance viewers. It touched off a flood of telephone calls to newspapers and radio stations. And at Westfield, Tioga County, a party of 150 men combed the nearby

Allegheny Mountain area after a farmer reported he had seen a plane on fire.

A noted astronomer, Dr. I. M. Leavitt, director of Fels Planetarium here, said the object of all the commotion may have been a projectile about the size of a walnut shell, travelling at a speed of about 25 miles a second.

First reports of the sighting came from Philadelphians, but there were others in Lehigh, Northampton and Carbon counties and even as far west as Dauphin County.

Saw Plane In Flames

About 7 p. m., Daniel Haskins, who farms about three miles north of Westfield, almost on the Pennsylvania-New York state line, reported seeing a plane with both wings in flames disappear beyond his farm. Virtually the entire town turned out in a vain search of the area.

Leavitt said the phenomenon seldom is seen and was last reported in this region more than five years ago. Fireballs, he said, are distinguished from larger meteors by the intensity of the light they cast—brighter than the brightest star.

He said they are bits of iron or mineral which the solar system has swept up in its rush through space.

Weather Forecast

Weather forecast for Wednesday, Sept. 30, to Sunday, Oct. 4: Middle Atlantic states and Eastern New York—Temperature will average above normal in north and well above normal in south, fair with little or no rain indicated except for possibility of scattered showers in north Thursday and

He said one the size of a grain of sand will travel with approximately the same speed as a light powered rifle bullet, leaving a bright orange-yellow trail as it burns in the atmosphere.

Sunday: Ohio, Western New York, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia—Temperature will average above normal with minor periods of somewhat cooler air Thursday and Sunday, scattered showers possible on Wednesday and about Saturday, otherwise fair.

CITIES SERVICE OIL COMPANY

PRODUCERS • REFINERS • MARKETERS • EXPORTERS

NEW YORK 5, N. Y.

SEVENTY PINE STREET

September 30, 1953

To our customers:

WE ARE PLACING on the market the world's finest extra premium motor fuel—the new Cities Service 5-D.

This new premium gasoline—product of years of research and millions of dollars worth of new equipment—is superior to any other motor fuel that can be bought today. We are prepared to prove that statement, and invite you to prove it to your own satisfaction by trying it.

You have, no doubt, been impressed by the recent announcements of improved gasolens by various companies.

With thousands of technicians at work in more than 100 petroleum laboratories, improvements are certain. The hundreds of millions of dollars invested in research by oil companies since the turn of the century have brought continuous improvement in gasoline quality.

So it can be truly said that nearly every company has contributed to our better driving and better living. In the petroleum industry there is no monopoly on ideas and enterprise.

This is all to the good. It has contributed to making the motorist more conscious of his investment, and the importance of maintaining that highly complicated piece of machinery, the automobile.

Cities Service has improved the quality of its gasoline through research year by year. This has been recognized by our customers, who in turn have told their friends. The number of our customers has doubled in the last 5 years—and is increasing every day. Last year they bought almost a billion dollars of our products and services.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS, both old and new, and particularly to those who have brought their friends to our stations, this word of reassurance:

Cities Service has not only kept abreast of all new improvements, but now, today, is ready to present the world's most advanced motor fuel—the new 5-D Premium Gasoline.

Groups of distinguished scientists and automotive engineers witnessed a demonstration of this new extra premium gasoline in action. They observed it operate under the most rigid tests and with their own eyes, they saw it do these things:

1. Improve operation through the highest octane ever produced for automobiles in your community.
2. Reduce harmful carbon (the first gasoline to do this).
3. Prevent rust in the fuel system which clogs delicate engine parts.
4. Provide, for the first time, an anti-oxidant lubricant to protect the upper cylinders, top rings and valve stems.
5. Stop stalling due to temperature changes in spring, fall and winter.

You can tell your friends—and we will back it up—this:

Some gasolens have none of these improvements

Some gasolens have some of these improvements

But only this new Cities Service 5-D Premium Gasoline has all of these improvements.

It is more than 3-dimensional; more than 4-dimensional. It is truly a 5-D product, the result of years of intensive research at our laboratories. Three months ago we began its manufacture, and today it is available at all Cities Service stations east of the Alleghenies and from Maine to Virginia. As quickly as possible it will be ready for motorists in other areas.

WE EXPECT THAT in this highly competitive industry some other alert companies will from time to time be offering you improvements which will approach or even equal our now outstanding 5-D Premium Gasoline.

In spite of the fact that automotive engineers tell us that our new 5-D Premium Gasoline is the world's finest motor fuel, our research men are not resting on their laurels. They are not taking a holiday. They refuse to admit, in this day of change and competition, that there is nothing more to do in the improvement of motor fuels and lubricants. They will continue to work for you and produce ever finer motor fuels in the days to come.

REDS SUGGEST TWO MEETINGS; ONE WITH CHINA

PARIS (AP) — The Soviet Union came up Tuesday with two proposals for international conferences—a Big Four Power meeting on Germany and a Five Power meeting including Red China to discuss the entire problem of world tensions.

The two proposals were contained in the latest Soviet reply to invitations from the United States, Britain and France to meet on Oct. 15 at Lugano, Switzerland, in a conference on the German and Austrian treaties.

In neither case did the Russians suggest a date or place for the meetings.

There was nothing especially new in the Soviet proposals. The Russians have asked before that the subject of Germany be dealt with before consideration of a treaty of independence for Austria. They have also proposed a meeting of the Four Powers and Red China to discuss a full slate of world problems. The Western Powers have not gone along with either suggestion.

Ten Page Answer

The Soviet note, about 10 type-written pages, was delivered yesterday to the three Western embassies in Moscow and relayed to Paris, London and Washington.

The Russian communication appeared to reject the Western invitation for the Big Four foreign ministers to talk about the deadlocked Austrian independence treaty at the same time they discussed Germany. Instead the Soviets said they had not received a Western answer to their note of Aug. 28 proposing that discussions on the Austrian treaty continue through diplomatic channels.

The Russians also did not specify where or when they thought the proposed five-power conference should meet.

The bulk of the Soviet note was a review of past diplomatic exchanges between the East and the West over the German problem and world tensions. The proposals for the two parleys were contained in two terse paragraphs.
